

ViTrox Launches New Responsive Website

November 1 2016 – ViTrox Technologies today announced the launch of its newly revamped website. ViTrox has revamped the layout and content of website in order to provide visitors a brand new experience in exploring the information.

This new website is mobile compatible and allows webpages to be viewed in response to the size of the device one is viewing with. Hence, it provides visitors an interactive and easier way to know more about ViTrox, via desktops, tablets and smartphones.

Apart from company information, product details, etc., ViTrox has added new pages, such as 'V-ONE', 'News & Media Centre' and handy access to corporate and Centre of Excellence videos as well. The updated website content allows visitors to get the latest news from ViTrox and send enquiries.

This new responsive website is designed with a clean and simple layout. Additionally, ViTrox has improved the functionality of website and enhanced rich content which focus providing first-hand company and product information. ViTrox will continue its effort to update the website from time to time with new product launches, business activity, talent recruitment, events, investor and financial information, etc. Visitors are encouraged to explore more via www.vitrox.com or connect with ViTrox through social media!

http://www.smtnet.com/news/index.cfm?fuseaction=view_news&news_id=19300